KoreaFocus and NYU Freedom for North Korea are collaborating with PeaceCorea, the NGO registered under the Korean Ministry of Unification, and will host a youth peace conference on February 3rd and 4th. PeaceCorea and NYU will host twenty students from Korean universities and graduate schools in this event. Student Representatives from each group will present their visions and ideas of how youth can play roles in contributing to peace in the Korean Peninsula, East Asia, and the world.

This conference consists of two components: 1) youths peace presentation 2) small group discussions

The group discussion topics:

Topic1: Concept of Peace and the Role of Youth for Peace

What is peace? What is a livable nation? What is a livable world? What is the role of youth for peace? What is my and our role for peace? Explain based on your perspective, experience, and vision.

Topic2: Our Vision and Role for Peace in the Korean Peninsula

How can we achieve peace in the Korean peninsula? Explain based on your perspective, experience, and vision.

Topic3: Our Vision and Role for Peace in East Asia

How can we achieve peace in East Asia? Explain based on your perspective, experience, and vision.

This conference will provide SIPA students and future peace leaders with invaluable opportunities to understand different ideas for building peace amid complex geopolitics of the Korean Peninsula, East Asia, and the world.
